

USE OF COMPETITOR INFORMATION & MAILING LISTS

All competitors' and potential competitors' names, addresses and personal information obtained by registering for a FRSE event, are confidential and the exclusive property of the FRSE. All lists developed by the FRSE, hosting agency or designee (example: mailing service, registration company, travel agency) to mail, confirm, or clarify any portion of the participants involvement with the FRSE also becomes the exclusive property of the FRSE. This information, in any form (originals, corrected copies, photocopies, on computers, or on computer storage media), shall be turned over to the FRSE at the end of the scheduled event.

Any mailing lists, computer files or computer software (original or enhanced forms) given to the host or his designee by the FRSE, or created from these sources, is the exclusive property of the FRSE and shall not be sold, given away or otherwise disseminated without the express written permission of the FRSE.